Mon. 10/10 – Thu. 10/14
8:00am – 2:00am

Black Authors on the “Black List”

Every year, in communities all around America, efforts are made to ban literature that somebody thinks you should not be reading. Visit our display at the Circulation Desk, read a banned book, and defend your right to read and think freely.

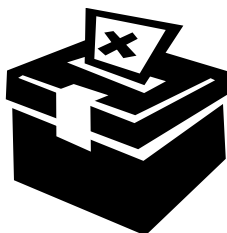

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month

During October, visit the library's literature display at the Circulation Desk to learn about the signs, symptoms, and risk factors related to breast cancer.

2010 Elections: African Americans and the Tea Party

One of the hottest issues this year is the role that the Tea Party will play in the elections. Many African Americans are concerned that the Tea Party is inherently racist; however, others identify with this political movement and intend to vote for Tea Party candidates. Where do you stand? See our news display at the Circulation Desk all October.*

October Drop-In Workshops

The library is hosting the following drop-in workshops during February. All students, faculty, and staff are welcome to attend! Workshops start at the reference desk on the main floor of the library.
